ZAPATA MURDERS OROZCO AND AIDS

PRESIDENT HUERTA'S PEACE COMMISSIONERS SLAIN BY REBEL LEADER.

ACT COMMITTED BY HIMSELF

Americans Put to Death by Mexican Federals—Mutinous Army May Force Executive to Yield to Wilson's Plan.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 23.—News of the capture and execution of Emilio Zapata, the bandit leader, and several of his officers and men has been received by the Mexican federal commander at Juarez.

Mexico City, Aug. 23.—Pascual Orozco and other peace commissioners were found slain in the streets of Huatla when the federal troops forced an entrance into the town. Zapatista prisoners informed the Mexican troops that Emiliano Zapata murdered the commissioners with his own hand when he was forced to abandon his retreat.

Reports Zapata Conquered.
Emiliano Zapata, the rebel chieftain who has been warring against every federal administration in Mexico since 1910, has been vanquished by Huerta's forces, save a dispatch. The message reads:

"The federals routed Zapata and captured his archives. Zapata is fleeing, but closely followed by the federals."

Soldiers Kill Mexican Deputy.

Deputy Bordes Mangel was shot dead by federal soldiers near Atzacotalco, a suburb. He was a friend of the late President Madero and recently was subjected to an investigation on a charge of sedition.

It is reported that Felix Diaz will return to Mexico with the full approval of President Huerta and run for president at the October elections. This may be a counter proposal by Mexico to the suggestion to President Wilson.

War on Extermination.

The government is displaying satisfaction over its energetic campaign of extermination against the rebels. Scores of small towns have been destroyed, hundreds of families dispossessed and many young men shot. Since the followers at Zapata invaded the federal district General Robles has destroyed seven towns within a few miles of the capital, including Ajureco. Nine fights between the federals and constitutionalists are reported to have taken place during the last twenty-four hours. All are recorded as federal victories. The situation about Torreón is admitted to be slightly worse for the federals.

American Slain in Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 23.—Edward Hayes of Buffalo, N. Y., timekeeper for the Madera Lumber company, was murdered by Mexican federals under Francisco Cordova, in Madera last week, according to Americans arriving here. The federals also killed an American negro because he tried to prevent them from taking the company's horses out of a corral. Both killings were incidents in the capture of the town from rebels.

U. S. Will Accept New Proposals.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Huerta's administration may reconsider its rejection of the American proposals to restore peace in Mexico and may arrange a new basis for negotiations with the United States before next Tuesday.

Intimations to this effect reached official Washington with the information that the financial condition of the Huerta administration was such that a crisis was imminent.

It is learned from authoritative sources that the Huerta government is facing a mutinous army, dissatisfied because no pay has been forthcoming for weeks.

Wilson Gives Huerta Time.

If the Huerta government decides to enter into a new basis of discussion, withdrawing the contentions expressed in the Huerta note replying to the proposals communicated by John Lind, President Wilson in all probability will not read his message to congress Tuesday as he intended.

President Wilson spent the day in studying the notes exchanged by Lind and Huerta and in preparing his message, which may be modified by dispatches received Tuesday if it is delivered to congress.

Reports from Mr. Lind declare that his relations with the Huerta officials were more cordial than formerly and that the officials manifested a willingness to find new ground for a settlement.

NO PREACHING SERVICE.

There will be no preaching service in the Evangelical church Sunday.

Sunday school will take place as usual.

SWITCH GARDENERS TO IMPROVE HITTING

CAPT. VAILE OF DIXON BROWNS
ANNOUNCES CHANGES FOR SUNDAY GAME.

In an effort to increase the hitting power of the team, Capt. Joe Vaile of the Dixon Browns has made a change in the outfield, which will throw one new man into the game. In tomorrow's game against the strong St. Mary's team of Freeport, in which every possible bit of hitting power will be needed, Curran will be sent into left field and Devine will occupy the right garden. Both of these players are unusually good hitters, and it is believed their ability in this line will improve when they are in the game steadily.

The game with St. Mary's tomorrow, which will be called at three o'clock sharp, promises to be one of the best games of the season. The St. Mary's aggregation has been cleaning up everything in sight at Freeport and in that vicinity and they confidently expect to make a cleaning here. However, Huber is pitching the best ball of his career right now and will undoubtedly have something to say in regard to the aspirations of the boys from the Pretzel city.

Stars Are Idle.

The Stars are not playing this week end, failure to agree on some vital questions bringing to a sudden close negotiations with Oregon and Ottawa, where the team was to have played today and tomorrow.

The Lineup.

The Browns will line up thusly tomorrow:

Dalton, cf
Vaile, 1b
Krueger, ss
Ruthe, 3b
Devine, rf
Monahan, 2b
Kalem, c
Curran, lf
Huber, p.

LITTLE ALEMAN BOOLILA IS DEAD

ONE YEAR OLD BABY GIRL PASS-ED AWAY LAST EV-ENING.

Little Aleman Boolila, the one-year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Boolila, 520 East River street, passed away at their home at ten o'clock last night, death resulting from infantile ailments with which the little one had suffered for some time. The funeral will be held at the home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with burial at Oakwood cemetery. A clergyman of Indiana Harbor will officiate.

JAMES SMITH MET DEATH AT LELAND

DIXONITE WAS KILLED IN TRAIN
ACCIDENT—WAS SPANISH WAR VETERAN.

James Smith of this city was killed at Leland, Ill., last night, in an accident on the C. B. & Q. R. R., according to dispatches received from friends in this city this afternoon.

Mr. Smith, who is unmarried and about 38 years of age, left Dixon a couple of days ago to go to Quincy, Ill., and is supposed that he was on his way there when the fatal accident occurred.

Mr. Smith was a Spanish war veteran. He was injured last winter at Harmon and was brought to the Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital in Dixon and was cared for there for several months. When released from that institution he went to Danville, to the Soldiers' Home and later returned to Dixon. Years ago he drove for Dr. Vaughan. The news of his death is a shock to his many friends in this city.

Mrs. Elsworth Shaffer of North Galena avenue, is entertaining her sister, Mrs. A. F. Brown, of Chicago.

Frank Hemmin of Fort Dodge, Ia. is here visiting friends and relatives.

CLAM BAKE BEING WELL ADVERTISED

ALL NORTHERN ILLINOIS SEEMS TO BE LOOKING FORWARD TO EVENT

1912 GUESTS ARE BOOSTERS

All Who Attended Last Year Are
Loud in their Praises—2,000
Expected

That the annual Elks' clam bake, which will be held on Watson's Island a week from Monday, will be the biggest thing in this part of the state on the holiday, is proven by the notices the newspapers of this section are giving it. In nearly every city within a radius of fifty miles, the papers contain daily notices of the affair, showing that those from away who have attended the previous affairs have had a good time and are boosting for this year's event.

The fact that the Dixon Elks have never failed to make good on any of their entertainments has added to the foreign interest in the bake, and the promise that this year's entertainment will be bigger and better than ever has aroused a great deal of additional interest in the affair.

Advices received by Chairman Miller of the committee are to the effect that many visitors will be here from Freeport, Rockford, DeKalb, Rochelle, Streator, Ottawa Aurora, LaSalle, Princeton, Moline, Rock Island, Clinton and Morrison. Several parties have been made up in Oregon, Savanna, Mt. Carroll, and other cities in this part of the state and the committee anticipates nearly 2,000 happy and hungry men in attendance.

DEATH RATE HERE LOW THIS SUMMER

DEATHS IN DIXON AND VICINITY ARE FEW—A HEALTHY CLIMATE.

The present summer is proving an exceptional one in the few deaths in this city and immediate vicinity, the conditions being the quietest the undertakers have experienced in many years. There have been but seventeen deaths in and about Dixon since about the first of June, the records for the three months being as follows:

June 5
July 8
August 4

REARRANGE APPARATUS IN FIRE DEPARTMENT

Several changes have been made in the arrangement of the apparatus at the fire department, which it is thought will improve the service. The hose wagon has been moved farther back in the room, thereby lessening the distance from the stalls to the harness and also providing better footing for the horses. This change was made, also, to avoid the necessity of placing considerable new plank in the entrance, which action was not desired until the new auto fire truck, purchase of which has been authorized, has been installed.

FARM LANDS SELL AT HIGH PRICES

During the past week the Wilbur Crawford farm of 60 acres was sold to Jacob Spangler at Nachusa for $250 per acre. Yesterday the Albert Ficture 80 acres, east of Dixon, was sold to Wm. Spencer, north of Prairieville, for $150 per acre. The deals were made by Auctioneer George Fruin.

WILL BEGIN THIRD STREET WORK MONDAY

Rink & Schnell expect to begin work Monday morning on the Third street paving improvement for which they were recently awarded the contract. The Purlington brick has been ordered for the job and Monday, if weather conditions remain favorable, the excavation for the curbs will be commenced.

DIXON LADY'S FATHER KILLED YESTERDAY

CARL MEHSNER OF WALNUT
KILLED WHEN BARN COL-LAPSED ON HIM.

Mrs. S. M. Green of this city late yesterday afternoon received the sad news of the death of her father, Carl Mehsner of Walnut, who died as a result of injuries received when a barn which he was wrecking collapsed. He died about an hour after the accident.

Last Monday Mr. Mehsner celebrated his 88th birthday, a large number of relatives and friends being present.

Inspecting Work.

Mr. Mehsner resided with his son Theodore and was inspecting the work of building a new barn and the wrecking of the old structure. It was while standing close to the old barn that the accident occurred. Several braces were torn from the barn and the next instant the structure toppled over. Although warning shouts were sounded the aged gentleman was unable to get out of the way. A heavy piece of timber struck him and crushed his skull.

Pioneer Settler.

Mr. Mehsner was a pioneer settler of Bureau county, having resided in that county for about 56 years. During the past 20 years he resided in Walnut. He is survived by three sons and two daughters.

POLO MAN KILLED BY UNKNOWN MAN

JAMES DALE OF POLO AND MIL-LEDGEVILLE, KILLED IN MISSOURI.

Milledgeville, Aug. 23.—Jas. Dale, formerly of this place and Polo, and brother of Ed Dale of Milledgeville, who has been living in Missouri for several years, met death by a blow from an unknown assailant last week. His remains have been brought here for burial.

The unfortunate man resided in the vicinity of Polo and Milledgeville all his life until eight years ago when he moved to Shelbyville, Mo., where he has since resided.

EDWARD VAILE IS ON TRUSTEE BOARD

LOCAL MERCHANT APPOINTED ON STATE NORMAL SCHOOL BOARD.

Edward Vaile of the firm of Vaile & O'Malley of this city, today received notice from Gov. Dunne that he had been appointed a member of the board of trustees of the Northern Illinois State Normal school at DeKalb to succeed Jason C. Ayres on this city, resigned. The appointment comes through the instrumentality of Representative John P. Devine of this city and will bring forth many congratulations for Mr. Vaile.

STABBING CASE DROPPED.

The case against Jacob Heckman of Palmyra, charged by W. S. Graybill with assaulting him with a deadly weapon, was dismissed by Justice Hanneken at the request of the plain-tiff, the two having reached an amicable settlement of their differences. It is understood that Mr. Heckman paid all physicians' bills and court costs involved by Mr. Graybill.

LOCAL JUNK MEN

BUY MONSTER SHEAR

Rubenstein & Senow, the local junk men, have purchased a monster alligator shear with which to cut up scrap iron which they secure. The big machine will be set up in their junk yard on River street.

FORMER ASHTON PASTOR

PREACHES HERE SUNDAY
Rev. English of Iowa, formerly of Ashton, will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church in this city tomorrow morning.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE WAS SUCCESSFUL

ANNUAL MEETING AT AMBOY WAS WELL ATTENDED AND ENJOYED

WAS INSTRUCTIVE SESSION

Pedagogues From All Over County
Attended Faithfully—Benefited
By Meeting

The annual Lee County Teachers' Institute, which was held at Amboy this week, and which closed Friday afternoon, was according to the expressions of the teachers, themselves, one of the most helpful and interesting meetings ever held by the county teachers' organization. A great deal of the success of the meeting was due to the loyal and attentive interest shown by the teachers, of whom 274 registered.

Before adjourning the teachers passed an expression of appreciation for the instructors, whose work was far above all expectation; for the people of Amboy for their kind attention and the use of the high school building for their sessions. The teachers also voted to hold their next institute in Dixon, the third week of August, 1914.

Reading Circle Work

The Teachers' Reading circle work for the ensuing year has been determined. Sutherland's "The Teaching of Geography" being the book chosen. Its equivalent, however, will be accepted.

Changes in Laws

One of the most important subjects under discussion at the institute was the new school law and changes made in other acts. County Superintendent Miller explained in detail all of the changes.

One which is of vital importance to teachers is the new law governing teachers' certificates. This law was read to the teachers by Mr. Miller Tuesday afternoon and they were given an opportunity to ask questions concerning it.

This new law as explained by Mr. Miller, provides for four kinds of state certificates and nine county certificates; the kind varying according to the sort of position for which the teacher is a candidate and the degree of preparation. The examinations for all are prepared in the state superintendent's office and the papers are graded by an examining board and appointed by him.

The requirements are much more rigid than under the old law but certificates now in force may, with the approval of the county superintendent, be exchanged for certificates of equal grade.

METHODIST "GALA DAY."

Monday, Sept. 1, Labor day, the Methodist Sunday school will hold their annual "Gala Day."

Last year over 700 people enjoyed the day, with its varied program.

This year plans are being made for a much larger crowd.

Invitations are being sent to the nearby towns and cities, inviting the Methodist Sunday schools to come and enjoy the day.

One of the great features of the day will be the concert by the Dixon Marine band in the afternoon. This alone proves the committee having charge of the day's activities is sparing no pains to make this a real eventful day.

NO CIRCUIT COURT TODAY.

Because of business in Freeport Judge Heard continued the recon-vention of the Lee county circuit court for one week, consequently there was nothing doing in the court today. Another session will be held next Saturday.

Visiting in Ohio.

Mrs. John Loftus and Mrs. Margaret Steele will spend Sunday in Ohio, the guests of Mrs. Thomas Burke.

HURT HIS LEG.

James Akeman is unable to be at his usual duties because of a slight injury received to his leg, which is of enough seriousness to prevent its use. It is not thought he will be incapacitated for any great length of time.

BLOOMER GIRLS MAY PLAY BALL IN DIXON

MANAGER WHITEBREAD HAS OF-FER—STERLING WEST ENDS ON SALARY.

The Boston Bloomer Girls' baseball team, which has been traveling in this section of the country, may come to Dixon for a game next Saturday. Manager Whitebread of the Dixon Stars has received a request from the girls' management for a game here on that date and now has the matter under consideration.

West Ends Salaried.

Manager Phelps of the Sterling West Ends, which team has been traveling here many times the past two seasons, has adopted a new plan in amateur baseball—that of placing his players on a salary. Hereafter the manager guarantees his men a lump sum of $40 a game to be divided among them. He believes that he can secure better work from the players and can handle them better under a salaried basis than under the co-operative plan.

CONSIDER CREOSOTE BLOCK FOR BRIDGE

COMMISSIONER VAN BIBBER BE-LIEVES PAVING WOULD BE PROPER THING.

Creosote blocks as flooring for the Galena avenue bridge are being considered by Commissioner VanBibber, commissioner of public property, and he has taken the matter up with the officials of the Sterling, Dixon & East ern, where his proposition aroused some interest.

It is pointed out that the installation of blocks on the bridge would save a great deal of repair expense and would provide a much better wearing surface. The interurban company, because of its use of the structure, is bound to keep the floor of the bridge in good repair, and a change in the material would greatly reduce the cost of so many repairs.

The officials of the company exhibited favorable interest when the subject was brought to their attention and if the city and company arrive at a satisfactory agreement on apportioning the expense the improvement will all probability be made.

ROAD COMMITTEE TO MAKE MANY CHANGES

WILL COMPLETE TOUR OF IN-SPECTION TODAY—MEET
NEXT WEEK.

The state aid roads committee left this morning for their last day's tour of inspection over the county, and some day next week they will meet for their final meeting before reporting to the board of supervisors at the September session. It is understood that many changes will be made in the proposed state aid roads.

Attorney H. S. Dixon returned today from his vacation outing.

AUTO TURNED INTO DITCH; BENT AXLE

While attempting to turn his auto on the River road last evening, Louis Loescher turned into a patch of weeds, under which he thought was terra firma, and because of the mistake the auto turned down an embankment. Fortunately Mr. Loescher escaped injury and a bent axle was the total damage received by the machine.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Monday night the Princess will show a special feature entitled "Half a Chance," the greatest 3-reel picture ever produced, a powerful picture dramatizing Fredericks Ishams' popular novel. This picture is unexcelled for dramatic situations and tender heart interest, dealing with the vital subject of Men Made Over. The acting and photoplay work are wonderful.

TENTS AND COTS FOR CONVICTS HERE

CONSIGNMENT FOR ROAD BUILD-ERS ARRIVED TODAY BY EXPRESS.

COMMENCE WORK SEPTEMBER 1ST

Governor Dunne Makes Statement
About First Work in the State.

A consignment of thirty cots and sufficient tents to provide shelter for them, arrived in Dixon today via the American Express, consigned to Highway Commissioner Michael Harvey of Grand Detour. These cots and tents will be used by the convicts from the state penitentiary at Joliet who are expected in Dixon some time next week to commence work on the Grand Detour hill Monday, Sept. 1. It is expected that between 30 and 40 men will be put to work here.

Governor Dunne and Warden Allen of the Joliet prison have conferred regarding the institution of convict labor in this state and inasmuch as the work here will be the first of its kind in the state, more than the usual importance is attached to it. In order that those in charge may start with some knowledge of what will be expected of them, Governor Dunne sent Mr. Allen to Colorado, where the most elaborate system of convict labor in the country is in operation, and following the warden's report to him, Governor Dunne issued this statement:

"We will commence work with convicts on the roads at Dixon, in Lee county, Monday, Sept. 1. We will have forty men at work there. They will live in tents and be employed for ninety days this year. I could trust every one of the men to go to Chicago and return. They will be on their honor. Next year I expect to have fully 200 men employed on the roads. Each county receiving the benefit of convict labor will be asked to pay 50 cents a day for each man to defray the expense of maintaining them."

MRS. ANNA MOORE'S UNDERWENT OPERATION

Mrs. DeWitt Dauntler arrived home this morning from Rochester, Minn., where she had gone with Mrs. Anna Moore and son, Mrs. Moore underwent an operation for goitre at Mayo Bros' hospital yesterday morning, which proved very successful. The trip of about 400 miles was made in Mrs. Moore's car without a mishap. Mrs. Dauntler returned by train and the Moores will return in their auto when Mrs. Moore has recovered.

DIED YESTERDAY IN KENTUCKY

Mrs. John Reynolds, 804 Peoria avenue, received the sad news today of the death of her niece, Miss Mary Doyle, at her home in Lexington, Ky., yesterday afternoon, at which city burial will take place. Miss Doyle, whose father was James Doyle, formerly of Woosung, visited here about two and a half years ago, and she has many friends here who will be pained to learn of her passing.

A MISCALCULATION.

Because of an error in computation it was announced this week that the city council would start morning meetings Monday. The announcement caused further investigation, however, and it was learned that the ordinance providing for the morning meetings will not become effective in time for the change. The computation of the elapsed time, which was made by a city official, caused the erroneous announcement. However, the morning's meetings will begin a week from Monday.

M'ALLISTER ELUDES ARREST

Charles McAllister, for whom the officers have a warrant charging him with having assaulted Claude Hastings with a knife, has not been apprehended by the officials and it is believed he has left the country for parts unknown.

County Treasurer Vaughan has gone to Chicago to spend the week end.

Social Happenings

Occupying Necedah

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weyant of Nachusa and party of Chicago are enjoying an outing at Necedah.

Entertained Club Girls

The members of the S. F. O. club whose ranks are broken by the absence of some of the members on a vacation, were happily entertained at an informal gathering on Thursday afternoon at the home of Misses Frances and Sue Patrick.

For Miss Hazard.

At noon yesterday Mrs. L. B. Neighbour entertained with a red and white luncheon for her niece, Miss Helen Hazard of Rock Island. The guests were Misses Pauline Fargo of Minneapolis; Marilyn Abbott of Rock Island; Gertrude Butler of Camilla, Ga.; Ruth and Seville Crawford of Dixon, and Anna Johnson of Aurora.

To Entertain With Bridge.

Miss Florence Noble will entertain with bridge Monday afternoon for Mrs. Leonard Andrus and Mrs. E. H. Finney.

Dance Tonight.

The regular Saturday night dance will be given at Rosbrook hall this evening and as the weather is much more auspicious for dancing parties a large attendance is certain. The Marquette orchestra will furnish the music.

Invitations Out.

Ashton: Invitations have been received here for the wedding of Miss Margaret Allerdice to George R. Charters, Jr., to take place Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, Sept. 3, at the home of the bride's parents in Spokane, Wash. A host of friends congratulate George. The young people will be at home after the first of November in Spirit Lake, Idaho.

At Shippert Home.

Miss Minnie Richards, graduate of Garfield Hospital, Chicago, has returned to Chicago after a visit with Mrs. Martha Shippert.

Returned From Visit

Mrs. Leonard Andrus has returned from a visit with Miss Anna Felt in Galena.

To Visit Cousin.

Miss Ella Williams left for Rockford today to visit her cousin, Miss India Williams.

To Join Picnic Party.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Good and daughter of 316 Eighth street, have gone to Sterling and tomorrow will join the Loos family in a picnic on Rock river.

On Franklin Creek.

Chas. H. Johnson, W. E. Worthington and E. E. Harrington are enjoying a fishing excursion today on Franklin Creek.

Motor Trip.

Royce Glenn Roe of DeKalb and Lyle H. Wilson of Earlville motored here from DeKalb yesterday and accompanied by Misses Helen Clark and Caroline Simonson motored to Grand Detour, where they dined and then returning attended a club dance in Sterling, completing a delightful trip. Messrs. Wilson and Roe returned home this morning.

For Mrs. Hamilton

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Woolever delightfully entertained a few friends last evening at dinner for Mrs. A. M. Hamilton and daughter Jean of Chicago.

Guest of Elgin Friends

Miss Jessie Harms left this morning for Elgin where she will be the guest of Mrs. Chas. Smith.

At Camp Parker

Ten ladies formed a jolly party yesterday and in the Esby launch went to Camp Parker at Grand Detour, enjoying a most delicious luncheon, picnic fashion. The ladies also enjoyed the boating and bathing facilities and altogether had a most delightful outing.

The ladies are members of the Naidni club and the ladies forming the party were—Mrs. Lyman Booth, Mrs. John Duffy, Mrs. Paul Brookner, Mrs. Mark Brown, Mrs. Louis Plen, Mrs. Phil Alderfer, Mrs. Geo. Cupp, Mrs. Al Simonson and Mrs. Burridge, and all are enthusiastic over the hospitality of Camp Parker.

Enjoyed Dance

A very fair sized crowd enjoyed the weekly dance at Illini hall at Grand Detour last evening. Smith's orchestra furnished good music.

Cotillion Monday Night.

A large attendance is expected at the cotillion to be given Monday evening at Illini hall. Miss Keyfarth will instruct in the one-step, one of the popular dances for the winter.

W. R. C. to Meet.

The W. R. C. will meet Monday at 2:30 at G. A. R. hall. Miss Mulkins has returned from Chicago, where she has been studying the fall styles in millinery.

First Public School.

The first common schools established by legislation in America were in Massachusetts in 1645, but the first town school was opened at Hartford, Conn., prior to 1642.

Very Much So.

"That case was very full of interest, was it not?" "It was full of everything. The witnesses were loaded, and the jury was packed."

Carrying Out the Idea.

"I washed my auto this morning. Well, go on and finish the wheeze." "How?" "Say, 'And now I can't do a thing with it.'"

Never Sees Its Shadow.

The sun never sees the shadows it makes. A great soul arouses envy and hatred, and beholds them not.

THE CASE OF SULZER.

Gov. Sulzer's case is a sad one. Elected as the champion of the common people by the votes of progressives and democrats, he soon became involved in a quarrel with Tammany Hall. Tammany at once made plans to kill him politically.

A former fiancé of the governor brought suit for breach of promise. The governor's name was blackened. The people did not believe his accusers—and he survived this attack.

He was charged with having omitted certain items from the sworn statement of the sources of his campaign fund which he filed under the laws of New York. He did not reply to this charge and his representatives and friends bitterly opposed the appointment of an investigating committee by the state senate of New York.

The investigating committee was appointed in spite of this opposition with Senator Frawley as chairman. The governor offered the committee no help and his secretary refused to testify before it.

At the investigation it came out that the governor had used nearly $50,000 of the money given him to insure the triumph of the principles his party represented in the purchase of stocks and bonds for his personal benefit.

It is hoped that Gov. Sulzer can explain away all the apparent misuse of money, of which, under the evidence, up to date presented—he now stands convicted. If he has a legitimate explanation he should give it to the public. If he has not, he should resign.

On the strength of the evidence the senate Wednesday impeached the governor and he stands suspended until the high courts can pass upon his guilt.

Louis M. Dixon, supreme treasurer of the Court of Honor, Springfield, is here visiting his mother, Mrs. S. Dixon, and brother, Henry S. Dixon.

CRUST ON HEAD ITCHED AND BURNED

So Would Wake Up Nights and Cry.
Head Bare in Spots. Cured Entirely in Six Weeks by Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment.

Rockford, Ia.—"My little girl had a bad crust form on her head. Her head had a crust on it as thick and burned so she would wake up nights and cry. Then it formed into sores and then it turned into a dry crust, and when I combed her hair great locks would come out. Her head was bare of hair in spots.
"Then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they cured her entirely in six weeks and her hair came in lovely. At that time she was about ten years old and now she is twenty-six and has never had any more trouble." (Signed) Mrs. H. J. Wade, Dec. 14, 1912.

PAINFUL ITCHING AND BURNING

260 Jackson St., Milwaukee, Wis.—"My trouble began with small speckles on my chest, arms and legs. Later it took the form of little blisters which caused painful itching and burning. In the day I was tormented by the clothing which irritated the eruption and in the night I lost rest from the itching. I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment finding relief in the first day of treatment. In one week I was well." (Signed) Joseph Cascone, Nov. 30, 1912.

For treating poor complexion, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have been the world's favorites for more than a generation. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

ABOUT A WOMAN'S AGE

KRYPTOK

SPECTACLES & EYEGLASSES

At what age does a woman cease to be young? Isn't it when she begins to juggle with two pairs of glasses, or when she sacrifices either near or distant vision kind with the single pair of bifocal lenses?
Some women who wear glasses pass for many years younger than they really are by wearing kryptok lenses, the double vision kind with the single appearance. If you are past forty you're interested and I want to show you a pair.

Two Ways to Catch Rabbits.

By the first method, "you take a lot of salt, mix some pepper with it, stew it on a very hard rock, then watch. The rabbits come and eat the salt, and the pepper makes 'em sneeze so violent, they bump their noses on the rock till they fall in a swoon and you step up and pop 'em in your bag." The other method was to "build a bustin' fire in the woods when the snow is plenty. Now rabbits, you must know, is a mite cold blooded little critters, so they'll cum and set round it and warm their toes. Well, pretty soon they'll drop off asleep and the fire'll melt the snow into slush. And pretty soon the fire'll die out and the mornin' 'll cum on sharp and 'll freeze the slush into ice and ketch the little critters fast by the paws. Then all you have to do is cum round with yer ax and chop 'em out."

Advocates Compulsory Matrimony.

There has been such a decline of recent years in the marriage rate of Trieste that one of the civic dignitaries suggests the institution of a system of compulsory matrimony. It is proposed that on a given date in each year all spinsters who have attained their twenty-fifth year and bachelors who have attained their thirtieth year should be required to present themselves before the syndic in whose jurisdiction they reside. The names of those who on medical examination prove to be thoroughly sound would be sorted according to sex, placed in separate urns, and then drawn two at a time. The couples whose names are drawn together would, at the conclusion of the draw, be united forthwith by the syndic.

Skyscraper Cities.

Opposite the post office, in lower Broadway, New York city, there has just been completed a building 750 feet high, which will provide working quarters for 10,000 people. If all the men and women employed in this one "skyscraper" should attempt to go up-town by the subway at the end of the day, it would take the ten-car express trains, running at intervals now established, 15 minutes to haul them away. Though this happens to be the highest structure in the city, there are others nearly as large; it is one of dozens that accommodate four or five thousand people each, and one of hundreds that accommodate more than a thousand people each. The number of these great buildings is steadily growing.—World's Work.

Too Expensive.

Two little sisters who were taken to see "Othello" were much impressed by the death scene. "I wonder if they kill a lady every night?" said Lucy. "Why, of course not, Lucy," said her sister, "they just pretend to. It would be altogether too expensive to really kill a lady every night."

A few days later he was considerably surprised to find the "coon in the box with the young guineas, "mothering them." Since that time the animal has refused to leave the chicks and keeps them well covered.

ERECT MACHINERY ON
NEW DREDGE BOATAMBOY NEWS GIVES INTEREST-ING ACCOUNT OF BIG DREDGE.

NEARLY READY FOR INLET JOB

Big Outfit Will Very Soon Be Put to Work on Inlet Drainage Job
East of Amboy.

The flat ground just east of Green River park has been a busy place all summer and is getting busier as the work on the big dredge nears completion. The place has now the appearance of a small village and when the village rises and begins to travel, as it expects to do within the next three weeks, it will be a spectacle worth seeing.

The machinery for the dredge has arrived and is being mounted as fast as possible. L. W. Berkey, who is in charge of the dredge work of the Northern Construction company in the inlet swamp drainage district, says that if no further hindrances are encountered the new dredge will begin work the first week in September. A small temporary dam, sufficient to float the big boat, will be built at the southeast corner of the fair grounds. The dredge will work down stream for a half mile and then turn around and go up stream for six miles, to a point beyond the inlet bridge.

Dams of more permanent structure heavily loaded with rock and provided with flood gates will be built, one above and the other below the dredge so the stream may be drained where the drills work and flooded as the dredge follows.

The first flood-gate dam will probably be built three miles up stream. The location of the second is still unsettled.

The dredge boat which has been in process of construction for some months past, has a hull measuring 34x90x7 feet—being 15 feet longer and five feet wider than the McWilliams dredge boat which was used two years ago on the Maple Grove drainage district. It is a flat-bottomed, rectangular structure, built to float in 3 1-2 feet of water when loaded with heavy machinery. It is constructed of massive hewn timbers, bolted together and caulked tightly with oakum and pitch. Five carloads of lumber entered into its construction and it will carry five carloads of machinery.

The dredge has a dipper of two cubic yards capacity, weighing about 3 1-2 tons, swung by a 70-foot boom and a 50-foot dipper handle. The circle on which the boom will turn is 19 feet in diameter and weighs four tons.

Mr. Berkey estimates that the dredge will handle 80,000 cubic yards of earth per month, working night and day with four men on each shift.

Beside this great dredge the boat will carry a 70-horse power boiler, two 32-horse power engines and an electric light plant.

About 20 men are employed in the construction work and in unloading and hauling machinery, under the direction of Wm. C. Lawrence, foreman of rock work for the Northern Construction company, and C. F. Ross, engineer and dredge builder. When the outfit is in operation it will employ between 30 and 40 men—16 drill men, 2 dynamite men, 3 firemen, 8 dredge men and various helpers.

The dredge will take with it all of the village east of the park except the blacksmith shop, in which three or four men are now forging bolts, etc.

The procession will be headed by eight steam drills which will work on dry ground when the creek bed is drained. They will be run by two 60-horse power boilers mounted on house moving trucks, on the banks of the stream. The boilers will be moved from one location to another by means of a stump puller.

Next will come the dynamiters, who will load the holes. A magazine for storing dynamite, with a capacity of two carloads, will be built 3 miles up the stream, and a small portable dynamite house, now used by the builders as a tool house, will be a part of the procession. It is calculated that 12 carloads of dynamite will be used on the job.

With the dredge will go a houseboat 12x54 feet, in which the men sleep; a canal boat carrying three or four tons and several cabins on wheels, one of which is used for an office and others for cooking and eating rooms and dwelling houses for the families of Mr. Berkey and Mr. Ross.

Mrs. Berkey and her mother are doing the cooking for the men employed on the dredge, and they and the children have enjoyed the summer's outing in their neat cabin with the city park for a dooryard. It has been pleasant in many ways than living in a house in town, beside the satisfaction of accompanying Mr. Berkey so that his home may be where his work is.

Mr. Lawrence, who has had charge of the construction and will have the oversight of the drilling and excavation, was in charge of the rock work when the same channel was first deepened 12 years ago.

The dredge which is now being erected is the seventh now in use in the work of the Northern Construction company, and the fourth on the inlet swamp drainage district.

MAY BARE THAW PLOT

Slayer Aid Threatens to
"Squeal" Unless Paid.Dominion's "No Discrimination" Note
Likely to Mean Deportation to Vermont.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 23.—Roger Thompson, the New York chauffeur held under the dominion immigration laws as having aided Harry K. Thaw legally a lunatic, to cross the Canadian frontier, announced from his cell that he was "up against it" and that if the Thaw family did not come to his rescue he would perhaps, in justice to himself, be forced to tell all he knows about Thaw's escape from Matteawan. If he does "squeal" it will complicate the proceedings under which Thaw's lawyers hope to obtain his release on a writ of habeas corpus next Wednesday.

Thompson removed the smoked eye-glasses he has worn since his arrest and admitted that the name "Mitchell Thompson," he had given the authorities was fictitious and that he was the chauffeur who drove the black machine which whisked Stanford White's slayer away from Matteawan.

"Sure, I'm Roger Thompson," he said. "I need money and help now, and it's up to the Thaws. I was framed up in getting in this case and they ought to stand by me now. I haven't a cent."

Thaw, in a cell above "Gentleman Roger," refused even to admit he ever had seen him.

It was admitted by the chauffeur that the Thaws retained lawyers for his defense and that they expected him (Thompson) to "keep his trap shut."

Instructions have been sent from Ottawa to the immigration officers here that when Harry K. Thaw comes into their hands there must be no discrimination against him. This was officially announced at the capital, according to dispatches, though the authorities here would not confirm it.

There is reason to believe that the instructions mean Thaw will not be sent to New York state, but, on rejection, will be returned by the Vermont route as would an ordinary person coming in by the way Thaw did and subsequently denied domicile in Canada.

Thaw had a quarrel with his many attorneys during the day.

OBITUARY

MRS. G. W. BOYCE

The following from the Bothell, Washington, Sentinel, tells of the sad death of Mrs. G. W. Boyce, mother of Dr. I. B. Swingley of this city: "The community was shocked last Saturday night Aug. 9, when it was learned that Mrs. G. W. Boyce had passed away."

That afternoon Mr. Boyce and Mrs. Boyce's son, G. A. Swingley, had called on her at the Pacific Hospital and her appearance and the assurance of the physicians gave them hope for the best, but shortly after arriving home that night her sudden death was wired to Mr. Boyce.

A moment before her death Mrs. Boyce held a pleasant conversation with her nurse to whom she conveyed her belief in soon being able to take a vacation.

Mrs. Alice S. Boyce was born in New York 61 years ago. In infancy her parents moved to Illinois, which state was her home till she and her now bereaved husband came to Washington seven years ago.

The immediate relatives to mourn her death are her husband, Geo. W. Boyce of this place, her son Dr. G. A. Swingley of Seattle, a daughter Mrs. Ada Hearn of Eatonville, and son, L. B. Swingley of Dixon, Ill., who was on his way to visit his mother when she died and a sister, Mrs. Ida Damer of Charleston.

The grief and sympathy expressed over her death constitute a remarkable tribute to this grand woman. She was a friend to all and she was deeply attached to her home in the outskirts of town where the couple had planned on spending many happy years.

Mrs. Boyce's health had been failing for several months but it was thought that science and medicine would win.

The funeral was held from Buttrworth's Chapel at 3 o'clock Thursday. Several Bothell people were in attendance to pay their sad tokens of respect.

POULTRY CULTURE.

Article XIV.

The Old Pasture: Expensive land is not a requisite in locating the poultry industry. Frequently an old rocky, bushy pasture may have a convenient location, good elevation and aspect, sufficient available water supply and possess the suitable soil and effective natural drainage which we have described. The rocks and bushes instead of being considered undesirable may prove advantageous. The fine fowls of today had their origin in the jungles of southern Asia and they do not seem to have lost their liking for the shelter and shade of the trees and boulders.

Artificial Drainage

We will next take up the special study of some of the principal points of artificial underdraining of the land where such expensive treatment becomes necessary.

Artificial Underdraining

If the poultry plant is located upon a strong retentive clay soil, then be studied out on paper during naturally too wet for the health and spare hours.—H. A. McKeene, Secretary, Illinois Farmers' Institute, Springfield, Ill.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness, sleeplessness and general ill health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be assimilated and carried to the blood. MORE ABOUT SWEET CLOVER.

Some Things Experienced Men Say About the Plant Often Called a Weed.

The value of sweet clover as a soiling crop has long been known and appreciated in the east and south. As a nitrogen gatherer it excels all other legumes. In his reports on investigations Dr. Cyril G. Hopkins says that an acre will yield 6.4 tons of dry matter, of which 228 pounds is nitrogen, and that the amount grown on an acre will furnish as much nitrogen and humus as 25 tons of average farm manure.

For Swine.

Prof. J. M. Westgate, Agronomist, U. S. department of Agriculture says sweet clover makes an excellent pasture for hogs. A sufficient number should be kept on it to keep it cropped close so that at all times there will be an abundance of fresh shoots for grazing. An acre will support 20 shoats besides furnishing a light cutting of hay.

Does Not Bloat Stock.

Dr. J. J. Haskell, in an address before the Kansas Dry Farming association at Garden City, Kas., June 5th last said: "For pasture sweet clover is valued highly by the stockmen of this vicinity. It is the first available pasture in the spring, and starts a little before alfalfa. Two years ago this spring there were 2000 head of cattle in our locality grazing on sweet clover two weeks before another green thing appeared." Answering a question about the danger of bloating stock, Mr. Haskell said: "The Allen Bros. of Hartland, Kas., shipped 1000 head of cattle from Florida where they had never eaten sweet clover, and turned them on sweet clover pasture. The first day they picked out and ate other plants, but after the second day all were eating sweet clover. These cattle had been on the road eleven days and were very thin and weak—in fact, in the best condition to bloat easily, but not one bloated. Not in their several years experience have the Allens had any animal to bloat on sweet clover."

Harvesting the Crop

For hay, the first year's growth can be left until it is well matured before cutting, as it does not form such coarse, woody stalks as it does in the second year. The old growth should be cut for hay just before the bloom appears. The crop is harvested much as is alfalfa, but all possible care should be used to prevent the leaves from shattering, as they are the most valuable portion of the plant.

Summarizing.

Sweet clover delights in hard, compact soils, exposed subsoils and strong situations, and conditions too adverse for other plants to thrive. Sweet clover grown in comparison with other plants used as green manures usually adds much more humus forming material to the soil than many others. Sweet clover is a biennial; it is easily restrained and cannot be considered a noxious weed. Sweet clover makes good hay if cut just before it blooms, and is nutritious pasture for horses, cattle, hogs and sheep, if grazed while growing is young; it thrives best in soils rich in lime; it can be seeded on the bare ground in January, February or March; with oats in April or alone on prepared ground in May, or at the end of summer as is often done with alfalfa. Sweet clover will help solve the problem of the abandoned fields; it will help heal the scars or washed and gullied fields and make green pastures possible where barren clay knobs now prevail.—H. A. McKee, Secretary, Illinois Farmers' Institute, Springfield, Ill.

World's Coffee Production.

According to the latest figures Brazil produces about 72 per cent. of all the coffee grown in the world, and the Dutch East Indies only 2.3 per cent., so it is easy to see what small chance we have of getting much Java coffee into the United States. As for Mocha coffee, grown in Arabia, so little is produced that hardly a grain could be spared for each inhabitant of the States. And yet we consume about nine and a half pounds of coffee per year for each inhabitant of the United States, while in the Netherlands each person drinks more than fifteen pounds. And yet the Dutch are not the most nervous people in the world, rather are they the most phlegmatic. Thus is another popular theory explained.

RATE QUESTION STIRS LODGES

PRESIDENT OF ROYAL NEIGHBORS SOUNDS WARNING IN CHICAGO ADDRESS

ELIMINATE SOCIAL PART

Competition Between Commercial and Fraternal Societies May Eliminate Fraternal Part.

The dangerous competition of commercial insurance with fraternal insurance societies was pictured graphically at the convention of the Associated Fraternities of America at the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, yesterday by Mrs. Myra B. Enright of Kansas City, Kan., president of the Royal Neighbors of America.

The fraternal element may be eliminated entirely from the many societies in ten years, according to Mrs. Enright, if the present crisis is not overcome.

Many Readjusting Rates

"Numerous of the large fraternal societies," said Mrs. Enright, "are readjusting their rates; they are raising them and placing them on a basis of competition with the commercial insurance companies. Some of these have lost thousands of members already as a consequence, because, with the raise of rates the organizations become nothing but profit-making corporations.

The tendency is for all of the officers of the societies to desire a raise in the rates which the members pay, with a resultant increase in salaries to themselves. In ten years all the fraternal organizations in the country with the insurance feature will either cease to exist as such and will have been commercialized, or will have strengthened themselves so they can hold their own with insurance companies.

Handicapped by State Laws.

We are handicapped by the laws of many states which have been forced through by powerful insurance companies and which enforce high rates upon us whether we will or not. We should bring influence to bear upon the legislative bodies to demand the right to fix our own fair and just rates."

Mrs. Enright explained that the main point of difference between the Associated Fraternities and the National Fraternal Congress, which is also in session at the Sherman, and is attempting to amalgamate with the first organization, is that of rates which are charged.

ILLINOIS FARMERS ARE WELL FINANCED

AVERAGE CORN CROP WILL BE VERY SHORT THIS YEAR, SAY EXPERTS

WINTER WHEAT IS EXCELLENT

Majority of Reports Show That Recent Rains Are More Beneficial Than Expected

Springfield, Aug. 22.—Agricultural and financial experts in Illinois, after a careful survey of the crop condition, agree that while the corn crop will be very short this year, little better than half crop, the farmers of this state are pretty well fortified financially. They agree there is to be some financial restriction, but no severe stringency and no cause for alarm.

The winter wheat crop is excellent offsetting the corn losses to some extent, but the wheat acreage is only normal so the offset will only in small measure, save the losses.

Will Not Suffer Financially

The farmers of Illinois will not be left in bad financial shape despite the crop shortage," said a prominent financier in discussing the situation. "Crops as a whole have been running above the average in recent years. Farm profits have been comfortable for some time. Drought warnings this season warned some toward the effort of fortification financially for a low or backward fall. There is no occasion whatever for alarm. Illinois always hears alarmist crop reports, but this state always produces a crop, and ninety-nine times out of a hundred it is far better than even the most optimistic predict. Farmers from all sections of the state send a variety of reports, the majority of them saying that recent rains will have a far more beneficial effect than had been expected."

More Kiss Doctrine.

One Mrs. Minnie Slentz promulgated this unorthodox doctrine in the divorce court a while ago: "Some couples may kiss each other right up until they are sixty, in an attempt to fool themselves into thinking that their kisses have the genuine heart glow of the first month of marriage, but it is all bosh. Real kissing becomes monotonous during the second year, intermittent from the fourth to the sixth, and stops entirely before the eighth year of married life.

Can this be true? At the risk of infringing on the province of another department of this paper, we invite the opinions of our readers on this important theme. Let your answers or criticisms be brief, either in verse or prose. In the words of Wallace Irwin: "Enough of kissing—can there be enough?"

Getting the Habit.

Keeping oneself reasonably happy is a duty that ought not to be shirked. Science is telling us these days that to get out of the habit of enjoyment is to get depressed in vitality and vigor, to weaken in efficiency and to grow old before one's time. There is nothing like laughter—not empty-headed laughter, but the intelligent, wholesome, kindly-hearted kind—to keep people young and fresh, and fit for the business and the obligations of living. Of course, this is a prescription not easy to live up to always, but there is no reasonable excuse for not trying to do it. Sometimes it is just about as easy to be happy as to be miserable, if one makes up his mind to it, and there is no doubt at all as to which pays the best.

Tale of the Commune.

This story of the Paris commune is well vouched for by a spectator. "As several Versailles were being led away to be shot," he says, "one man in the crowd who accompanied them, to see the shooting, made himself particularly conspicuous by taunting and reviling the prisoners. 'There, confound you,' said one of the prisoners at last, 'don't you try to get out of it by edging off into the crowd and pretending you are one of them. Come back here; the game is up; let us all die together.' And the crowd was so persuaded that the communitarian's vehemence was only assumed to cloak his escape, that he was marched into the with the prisoners and duly shot."

Why You Cannot Swim.

The nonswimmer, fearing the water, very naturally tenses his muscles as he struggles to keep his head above the water, until he is as hard as a rock, and like a rock he sinks; whereas the swimmer, having no fear, relaxes his muscles, and hence becomes buoyant. The explanation is a simple physical one. Tense, taut muscles increase the specific gravity of the body and make it sink in water; loose, relaxed muscles (given an ordinary supply of air in the lungs) will make the body float.—Outing.

DINING TABLES

The Hastings Dining Tables made at Hastings Michigan, are indeed worth getting acquainted with, they are the kind of table that clear away the clouds in your table sky and let the sun shine through. And we are going to tell you a few of the reasons why we want you to know more about Hastings Tables.

Hastings are extremely Careful about the timber they put into their Tables, they use nothing but carefully selected Northern Grown White Oak Stock, and then they Kiln Dry all their own lumber in their own peculiar careful way, so there is not a question of doubt but their Tables will stand for years and years without springing or warping in the least, and you know that this feature alone is worthy of the most favorable comment.

Construction with Hastings is a religion, shabby, haphazard work in their factory has long since been relegated to the boneyard, they have careful interested workmen in Hastings factory who do their work right all the time, so every Table has a guarantee as good as any Bond ever written, for it bears the name "Hastings."

In the Year of 1901 Mr. Tyden became interested in the Hastings Tables and gave to them the Wonderful Tyden Lock, this simple piece of machinery securely locks BOTH Top and Pedestal in Hastings Tables, and so well does it perform its duty that even the extreme bottom of the Pedestal is securely fastened, this contrivance also permits of putting in 1 2 or 3 Leaves in the Top and so securely lock them that you can move the Table about the floor without the Table pulling apart, and as the Leaves in the Hastings Top are securely LOCKED IN you need have no fear of the Hastings pulling apart after the Table is set for dinner.

To remove the Top of the Hastings Table is a simple operation, no hammer, screwdriver, or tool of any kind is needed simply open the top of the Table a little ways and push out two small steel pins and the Top can be lifted off the base as easily as you please, you can then carry the Table out of the room in three sections and suffer no inconveniences getting through the doors.

CARING FOR MOULTING HENS

To Hurry Fowls Along They Must Be Fed Liberally—Feed Them Mash and Plenty of Grain.

Some people make a dreadful fuss about the poor moulting hen, while this moulting process is just as natural as it is for a hen to live and breathe and no more critical than the laying stage, provided the hens are fed enough to keep up the waste of the body and at the same time manufacture the new feathers, says the Field and Farm. The sooner the feathers are grown the sooner the eggs will come and to hurry them along as fast as possible the fowls should be fed liberally. Give them all the mash they will eat and a good feeding of grain at night.

To many folks it looks like throwing away money to practice heavy feeding while no eggs are coming in, but this is one of the secrets of getting winter eggs. The moulting season is the most critical period in the life of a hen. Growth of new feathers is a heavy strain on vitality. As the hen is fed on the average ranch it requires from two to four months to recover from the effects of it.

By giving the necessary materials with which to make the feathers so that a hen will not have to take them from the tissues of her body, she will be ready for work as soon as she has her new plumage and often before. Pullets should be handled in the same way. They are not yet fully developed and will not begin to lay until the amount of food they consume is enough to support growth with a surplus to go into something else.

SECURE PROFIT FROM DUCKS

Eggs Can Be Sold at High Prices and There is Always Good Demand for Their Feathers.

A nice flock of ducks increases the profits on the farm every year. The eggs can be sold in the spring at good prices, for setting, and there is always a good sale for feathers.

They are much less trouble than chickens or turkeys because they seldom die from any kind of disease. Ducks will always take care of themselves after they have been hatched a short time. As soon as the ducks are large enough to eat, sprinkle chick curd in their boxes. Shallow vessels should be used for watering. A good plan is to fill a flat pan nearly full of pebbles, and pour in water. They will drink in the little pools between the pebbles and be kept from getting too wet. After they are three to four weeks old water will not hurt them.

Trio of Colored Rouen Ducks.

The Pekins, Rouens and Indian Runners are the three most popular breeds, the latter being a perfect egg machine, but small in size. The Pekins lay well and are excellent table ducks, making a very desirable market duck. They weigh: Adult drakes, 8 pounds; young drakes, 7; ducks, 7; and young ducks, 6. In all there are ten varieties of standard, bred ducks.

HEAD LOUSE ATTACKS CHICKS

Poultry Must Look Closely for Injurious Little Insects in Order to Get Healthy Birds.

(By A. C. SMITH, Professor of Poultry Husbandry, University Farm, St. Paul, Minn.)

The head louse attacks young chicks generally before they are feathered out, and is first found on the head with its claws or feeders sunk into the skin of the head. As they become more numerous, they attack the throat and neck as well. The remedy is simple, but it takes a little time. Each chick must have its head greased with lard, cottonseed oil or olive oil. You will have to look closely to see these insects. They are very destructive to chickens and must be controlled or exterminated if the chick is to be healthy.

Setting a Turkey.

In nearly all cases it will be best to allow the turkey hen to hatch out her second laying of eggs. The weather is usually warm and settled, and she will raise them with very little trouble.

Singer is Layer.

The singing hen is the layer and if there is not song among your flock something is wrong and you should immediately ascertain what it is and remedy it.

PRETTY PARTY FROCK

WHITE CHIFFON MOST APPROPRIATE FOR SMALL GIRL.

As Much Attention Given to the Details of Children's Wear as to That of the Grown-Up—No Fixed Waist Line.

No more than in grown-ups' is there any lack of variety in wearing apparel for children. Coats, frocks, hats—each shows interesting little touches, writes Cora Moore in the Washington Star.

Children of all ages are wearing their skirts unusually short just now, while as for the waist line, it may be anywhere above or below the normal waist line, for the use of the normal line has a tendency to make the figure look older, and the chief characteristic of any frock between four and sixteen year sizes should be its youthfulness.

Chiffon seems hardly suitable for children's frocks, even for wear at the most pretentious parties, but fashion, not always discreet, insists upon introducing it for their small ladyships this year; and, since that is so, here is a delightful little model that can be made up quite inexpensively.

The skirt, gathered with a two-inch heading at the high waist line, has two three-inch tucks run around it, midway of the length. It opens down the front and has a small curved slash above the knees with a tiny bit of draping caught up under the ending of delicate pink chiffon roses that top the hem.

The roses are also used about the waist instead of a sash, though in back there is a flat bow with long ends of azure blue ribbon.

The blouse is very simply made on the peasant variety, with a round neck and elbow sleeves finished with plaited lace ruffling. The sleeves are set into dropped armholes and finished with a corded seam. Some of the fullness in front is draped up under two tiny blue satin bows and there are two more set along the outside of each sleeve.

BRIEF FASHION NOTES

Cubist designs are seen even in some of the new corset materials. The black and white combination in footwear continues to be liked.

The crown dent is a smart feature of the new felt for country wear. Chamisso yellow is one of the colors seen among girls' topcoats.

Nothing equals white chinchilla for the fashionable sports coats. Gold and green is fast coming to be one of the favorite combinations.

All lace underwear is distinctly in the mode. Frequently such garments are made over net.

The newest collars on the fall coats are fastened up high at the neck to allow for cold weather.

Draped coats are liked for dress wear; simple, straight cut garments for general utility purposes.

Coat chains are being made of beads, steel intermingled with cut coral are favorites.

The most fashionable corset simulates the uncorseted figure. Stiff or constricted lines are a thing of the past.

Beads Tone White Costume.

Inexpensive glass beads can be worn to give the right tone of color to the all-white costume. Opaque beads are sold in chains sufficiently long to go about the neck and drop in a V-line in front—a line which is artistic and much more becoming than the round neck line—for prices varying from 50 cents to $1.50. These beads come in various shades of green and are especially effective in jade color. They are also sold in yellow, red and blue.

For Tight Shoes.

Summer is the season above all others when one's shoes seem to hurt, and this year one looks in horror at the rows of patent leather ones that are brought out in the exclusive shops, but true, these may be worn with comfort if one will shake a little powdered alum into the toe of her shoe before going out. Do not put it inside the stocking, merely inside the shoe.

FINAL SPECIAL ASSESSMENT NOTICE.

Public Notice is hereby given that the Board of Local Improvements of the City of Dixon, in the County of Lee and State of Illinois, caused to be filed in the County Court of said County of Lee, on the 18th day of August, A. D. 1913, a certificate showing the final cost of constructing Vitrified Tile Pipe Sewer with necessary manholes and house connection laterals on East First Street, along the center line thereof, from the manhole heretofore constructed in Crawford Avenue to a point 225 feet east of said Crawford Avenue and from said manhole to a point 225 feet west of Crawford Avenue, constructed in said City of Dixon under and in pursuance of City of Dixon Local Improvement Ordinance No. 148, Series of 1913, and the amount estimated by said Board to be required to meet accruing interest on bonds and vouchers issued to anticipate the collection of the assessment for said work. Said certificate also shows that said work has been done and completed by the Contractor doing the work in substantial conformity to the requirements of said ordinance and has been duly accepted by said Board.

The final cost of said improvement and the amount estimated for interest as shown by said certificate are: 464 linear feet of 8 inch sewer, complete, at sixty (60) cents per linear foot $278.40 328 linear feet of 6 inch laterals, complete, at fifty (50) cents per linear foot 164.00 2 manholes, complete, at thirty-five (35) dollars each 70.00

Total cost of work, $512.40 Lawful expense 25.20

Total cost of improvement $537.60

Public notice is further given that the court has set said certificate and any objections that may be filed thereto for hearing at nine o'clock in the forenoon on Monday, the 8th day of September, A. D. 1913, or as soon thereafter as the business of the court will permit.

Said hearing will be held in the County Court Room in the Court House, in the City of Dixon, County of Lee and State of Illinois. All persons interested may file objections before said time set for hearing and appear and show cause why said petition should not be taken as true. Dated August 19th, A. D. 1913. Board of Local Improvements of the City of Dixon, Illinois. By MARK C. KELLER, Its Attorney.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested that the Council of the City of Dixon, in the County of Lee and State of Illinois, has by said City of Dixon, Illinois, Local Improvement Ordinance No. 138, Series of 1912, passed by the Council of said City of Dixon, July 14th, A. D. 1913, and approved by the Mayor of said City of Dixon, July 14th, A. D. 1913, provided for the furnishing of the labor and materials and constructing of cement concrete pavement with expansion joints in the Alley running easterly, from the north sidewalk in Third Street to the South sidewalk in Second Street, through Block No. 29 of the Original Town, now City of Dixon, Illinois.

That said Ordinance is now on file in the office of the Clerk of said City of Dixon; that application has been made to the County Court of Lee County, Illinois, for an assessment of the cost of said improvement according to the benefits as provided by law and said ordinance; that an assessment therefor has been made and returned to said court, and that the final hearing thereon will be had before said court in the County Court Room in the Court House in Dixon, in said Lee County, Illinois, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon on Monday, the 8th day of September, A. D. 1913, or as soon thereafter as the business of said court will permit.

All persons desiring may file objections to said assessment in said Court before said time and may appear at said hearing and make defense.

Said assessment is payable in Eight (8) annual installments and all installments bear interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum, according to law until paid.

Dated at Dixon, Illinois, this 19th day of August, A. D. 1913.

GEORGE W. HILL, Commissioner.

CHEAP HELP ON MANY FARMS

Besides Adding to Revenue of Farmer by Wool and Mutton, Sheep Devour Many Noxious Plants.

(By W. A. LINKLATER, Oklahoma Experiment Station.)

It would add to the revenue of many farms if a flock of sheep were kept. Besides being profitable they are great weed eaters. They will eat five out of six of our known weeds, where a cow or horse will eat only one out of every six.

Range-bred sheep are the right kind for the average farmer to buy. Such will be graded Merinos and if they carry a cross of Shropshire, Lincoln and other mutton blood, so much the better. It would not be advisable to buy Mexican sheep or low grade sheep of any other kind.

The ewes purchased for the foundation flock should be good, large animals from one to four years old, and weighing more than 100 pounds. Where possible it would seldom be practical to start with less than 50 ewes, and a larger number would be better still. A flock of a dozen would require almost as much care as 50 or 100. These range-bred grade Merinos should be bred to a Dorset ram if possible.

The reason we recommend buying range-bred grade Merino ewes is that thousands of these are available, while Dorsets are not to be had in large numbers.

These fall or early winter lambs, by good feeding and care can be made to weigh 90 to 100 pounds by May 1, when they will find a ready market and will always be in demand. Such lambs should bring from $5 upward.

SELECTING CORN FOR SEED

Technical Knowledge on Part of Farmer Not Necessary for Improvement of His Crop.

(By J. M. GRAY.)

The possibilities of improvement of corn by judicious selection, are very great. Ever since man has been tilling the soil, he has changed the character of plants by consciously or unconsciously making selections. The improvement of any plant is considered by most farmers a very difficult operation and one to be undertaken only by those who are qualified by natural ability and special training, to such work. Yet it does not require any technical knowledge on the part of the farmer to improve corn, for the methods of selection are very simple.

Every farmer who is growing corn should plant some standard variety which he knows has been tested and gives the most profitable yields in his locality, and from this he should select, each year, seed that comes nearest to his ideal. It is necessary to make this selection each year because if it is not done the corn will soon revert to the original type and lose those qualities which the farmer has been striving to get.

In your selections, instead of looking for an ideal ear only, look for an ideal stalk made up of an ideal stem, of ideal foliage and of an ideal root system bearing an ideal ear or ears covered with ideal husks, and supported by an ideal shank. Possibly this will be hard to find; but you can find something which approaches it, and from this, with your ideal in view, you can select continuously until you have a plant very nearly approaching that ideal.

Inferior Lambs.

Lambs of low vitality and ewes deficient in milk flow at lambing time are usually the result of improper management during the pregnant period.

DAIRY NOTES

Not all cow-keepers are dairy farmers.

Warm and cold cream ought not to be mixed.

Good dairy stock show their possibilities early.

Many eastern farmers feed grain to milk cows on pasture.

Quiet and comfort are what count in dairying, and more especially in hot-weather dairying.

Successful dairying depends entirely on right methods in breeding, feeding and management.

If there is no silo on your farm, do not let another winter catch you unprepared. Make your plans right now for one.

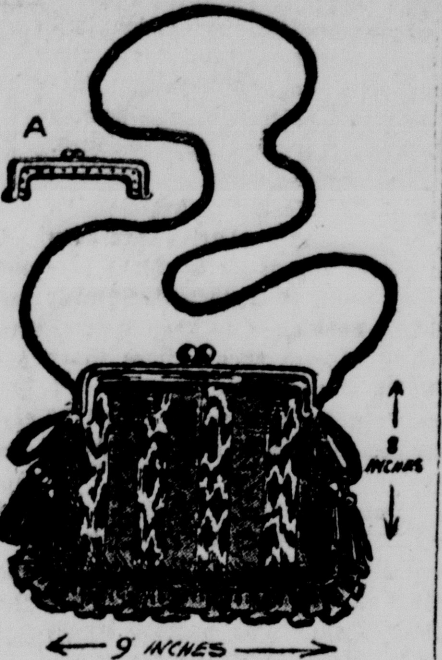

Offentimes the one who has dairy butter for sale must take his pay in trade, while those who sell cream get nothing but cash.

In selecting cows, all signs may fail, but the Babcock test is absolutely reliable. It will tell you whether the cow is good or not.

BIRTHDAY OR OTHER GIFT

Little Hand-Bag Would Take On Additional Value as the Work of the Giver.

Our sketch shows a useful and practical type of hand-bag, which is simple and easy to make. It fastens with a metal clasp of the shape shown in diagram A, on the left of the illustration. Metal clasps for this purpose, with perforations in them, for sewing them on to the material, may be inexpensively purchased in many fancy work shops, and there are various designs that may be selected from, and of course they may be used in making bags of any shape.

The bag illustrated is carried out in dark green striped moire silk, and lined with soft silk, and the size indicated will be found a useful one, though it could be made on the same lines in a larger or smaller size, if preferred.

A novel feature about it is the little frill that runs all round the edge. Black silk cord of a fancy pattern is attached on either side and it is arranged in loops with the ends knotted and frayed out into tassels.

It might be made in other colors than those suggested if desired, and it is always a pretty idea with articles of this nature to select the materials of a color to match or harmonize with the costume with which they are to appear.

DAY OF THE DOUBLE SKIRT

Vogue That Has Much to Recommend It Seems to Be Definitely on the Increase.

The vogue of the double skirt seems to be increasing. The under one, generally of supple satin, is often draped and drawn in around the ankles. Over this a contrasting material is draped or pleated. In the latter case it might pass for an elongated tunic, especially as it is often of taffeta. The fancy for these double skirts finds a better medium of expression in the sheer summer materials. Through the upper one, which is transparent, one sees the colored garment of the under one and the effect is very soft and pretty.

Ribbons are used for this trimming of the foundation skirt, just as they are employed under transparent bodices. This use of ribbons under sheer waists was introduced about a year ago, but did not find its way into the fashions for the multitude until this spring. In spite of the fact that it has now reached the bargain counter stage it is still a feature of many exquisite toilets.

IN BLUE AND WHITE STRIPES

Practical Little Frock That Combines Serviceability With Many Other Good Qualities.

A practical little frock which combines the requisite coolness with serviceability is shown here. This is developed in blue and white striped voile. The stripes are about one-quarter inch in width, which gives a sufficiently dark tone to the frock to make it eminently serviceable. The upper half of blouse and sleeves is of white voile heavily embroidered at the invisible joining with the stripe. The neck is cut in V shape showing a small yoke of shadow lace, while at the back is a round collar of blue satin reaching to the shoulder. The girdle and band into which the sleeve is gathered are of dark blue satin. The skirt has a plain tunic and both are finished by a six-inch hem.

Ring the Changes.

The outdoor girl will find a suit of striped flannel or woolen material a useful possession. The blouse, made with a neat yoke at the back and straight cut in front, may be worn with a dainty turnover collar and cuffs and a knotted scarf of self-colored silk along with a skirt of plain material (which the silk scarf should in color). Another day its owner can wear her coat and skirt together with a lingerie blouse and look very complete and well turned out, or the skirt may be worn on the links with a well-made knitted coat.

EXPLAINS THE MERMAID MYTH

Sailors Mistook the Seal or Sea Calf for Mythical Creature They Thought They Saw.

Of course there are no mermaids such as have been depicted to us by imaginative artists for many centuries—mythical creatures, half woman, half fish, with long waving tresses—but it is interesting to note that more than half the ancient pictures of mermaids depicted the creatures sitting on a rock in the sea combing their long hair and looking into a small hand mirror.

Where did man get the idea, that mermaids possessed combs and mirrors? At first one might think it evolved through the belief that mermaids (man once believed they existed) all possessed long hair, and, possessing it, naturally did what all women do—combed it.

And because women have always used mirrors—even the prehistoric women used pools of water for this purpose—these old artists gave their painted mermaids mirrors and combs.

But this is not true. It was no supposition on the part of the old artists. They made their pictures from the description that thousands of old sea-faring men gave, men who actually believed they had seen mermaids. And these men frequently quite as solemnly avowed they saw the mermaids with combs and mirrors.

Not the least strange part of all this is the fact that many of these old sailors really believed they had seen mermaids. There is no doubt that they saw seals, or, more likely, the sea calf. This peculiar creature has a habit of half raising its body out of the water. Away back in the olden days, when there were few sailors and they had not sailed far in any quarter of the globe, the sight of a sea calf was a strange, weird thing to them. The sea calf does not look unlike a human being half raised out of the water.

NOT MEANT TO BE SERIOUS

Comparative Harmlessness of French Duels is Largely a Matter of Arrangement.

A large proportion of the duels in France end without bloodshed. When the offense is not very serious it is agreed beforehand that the words of command shall be given so rapidly that the duellists will not have time to take good aim. Sometimes three shots are exchanged without a hit, and then the seconds step in and—"honor is satisfied." At the word "Fire!" the pistol is raised instantly, and it must be discharged not later than the word "three," so the speed with which these words are given regulates the time in which it is possible to take aim. Therefore the speed with which they are spoken is agreed upon beforehand, this depending upon the seriousness of the duel. The words are timed with a metronome. If the encounter be very serious this is set at the slowest speed, 80 beats a minute, which gives time for taking accurate aim. A speed of 140 beats a minute allows no time for aiming, and, therefore, is used when the seconds consider the duel should be made as little dangerous as possible.

Rural Life, the Nation's Hope.

I warn my countrymen that the great recent progress made in city life is not a full measure of our civilization, for our civilization rests at bottom on the wholesomeness, the attractiveness and the completeness, as well as the prosperity of life in the country. The men and women on the farms stand for what is fundamentally best and most needed in our American life. Upon the development of country life rests ultimately our ability, by methods requiring the highest intelligence, to continue to feed and clothe the hungry nation; to supply the city with fresh blood, clean bodies and clear brains that can endure the terrific strain of modern life; we need the development of men in the open country who will be in the future as in the past the stay and strength of the nation.—Theodore Roosevelt.

Pebble Industry in Normandy.

The pebble industry is becoming quite important in upper Normandy, France. The cliffs of the Caux region, undermined by subterranean springs and by the waves of the English channel, slip, fall and break. They are formed of a calcareous mass containing flints. These flints fall to the bottom of the sea, where they become flat and take an ovoid shape. Their color is blue, spotted with brown, yellow or red stripes. They are used to manufacture concrete stone and earthenware, and their dust is even employed to make paint and rice powder imitation.

Over 120,000 tons of pebbles are annually picked up on the Normandy beaches. Most of it is sent abroad.

Queer Translations.

When the Bible was translated into Japanese, an equivalent to the word "baptize" could not be found, and the word "soak" had to be used instead, so that the Japanese Biblical students are acquainted with a person named "John the Soaker," and with a doctrine of "soaking for remission of sins." In that case the ministrations are due to inadequacy of language. A school boy once rendered "Miserere, Domine" into "Oh, heart-broken schoolmaster!" And another recovered from German the text "The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak," in the form, "The ghost of course, is ready, but the meat is feeble."

Turk Superstitious Regarding Triumph of Christianity.

Column of Black Marble or Basalt in Mosque, Shows Sympathy When Christian Enters by Sweating or Weeping.

Many superstitious beliefs are held by Mohammedans about the final triumph of Christianity over Mohammedanism. Such beliefs are very widespread throughout the Turkish empire as well as in Asia Minor.

In Damascus tourists are shown a little tower, part of a great mosque which was destroyed by fire many years ago, in which there is believed by the Turks to be a copy of the gospel. They believe that when the tower is opened and the holy book revealed Christianity will once more become the dominant religion of the country. Consequently the tower, which could not be entered without the help of a ladder and which is said to be hermetically sealed, is guarded day and night by Turkish soldiers.

At Jerusalem also the famous golden gate is built up so that none can pass it, because there is a belief that through it a Christian prince will enter and proclaim the triumph of the Christian religion.

At Constantinople, when visitors to the mosque of St. Sophia were admitted to the gallery—which is not permitted now, as the building is said to be unsafe—they were shown a little false locked door through which, it is said, a priest who was in the act of dispensing the holy sacrament fled, bearing the sacred elements with him, on the news being brought to him that the Turks had succeeded in entering the city. There he is said to remain to this day, waiting for the return of the Christian to power, when he will come forth and finish the sacred rite.

At Balıkli, a place close to Constantinople, there is a miraculous healing fountain, to which every year on a certain day crowds of people suffering from horrible diseases resort for healing, either coming themselves or being brought by their friends. A great fair is held at the same time, at which thousands of people who do not require a cure gather to enjoy themselves with the games and shows, feasting and making merry.

There is in the neighborhood both a Greek and an Armenian hospital and also an Armenian church, as well as the Greek church in which is the healing fountain. The story is to the effect that a priest was in the act of grilling some fish for his dinner when word was brought to him that the Turks had captured Constantinople.

The priest, instantly preparing to flee, tossed the fish from his gridiron into the fountain, with the command to remain there till the Turks were driven from the city. The fish, faithful to this charge, may be seen in the fountain to this day, with the marks of the gridiron on one side—for they were only half done when they were returned to the water.

"On one of the two visits I paid to Balıkli," writes Lady Ramsey in the Sunday School Times, "I certainly saw fish in the fountain, but the light was too dim for me to make out whether there were marks of the gridiron on them or not."

"On the day of healing the water is drawn from the fountain by attendant priests and poured into two large casks, from which the people take it in cups or other vessels brought by themselves and pour it over their sores—heads, arms or legs, as the case may be. Often the water runs back into the casks as they bend over them, but they and the rest of the crowd go on dipping and drinking and laving all the same."

"It is a disgusting sight, and the wet is filled with steam from their wet clothes and bodies and stifling with evil odors. It is not only Christians who seek a cure in this Christian church—Turks, and I believe Jews also, frequent it. Of course, it is only the ignorant of any race who do so."

"At Ak-Hissar, a town which now occupies the site of Thyatira, one of the seven churches of Asia, there is a mosque that was originally a church in Byzantine times. A minaret has been added to it to complete its transformation into a mosque. On the point of the minaret we noticed that there was a metal ornament in the form of a cross inclosed in a circle, and inquired of the Imam—Mohammedan priest—how such a thing came to be there."

"He replied that the mosque having been originally a Christian church, it was necessary to have the Christian symbol to protect the minaret, which had been in danger of falling. Inside the building was a column of black marble or basalt standing by itself, and the Imam informed us that whenever a Christian entered the place the column showed its sympathy by sweating or weeping. He maintained that it was doing so at that moment and, rubbing it with his hand, asked me to observe that his palm was wet! It was. I can't deny it. Nor do I pretend to explain it."

In 1933.

"And so they have decided to get a divorce. What a pity."

"It is a pity. But what can they do? It's just another one of those cases of too much father-in-law."

MONEY BILL FOES LOSE HOUSE FIGHT

Secretary of State Rescues
Currency Measure From Radicals.

VICTORY VOTE OF 130 TO 60

Wilson Cabinet Members Appeal to House Caucus Defeats Plan to Prohibit Interlocking Directorates in National and State Banks.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Representatives who support the administration currency bill won a victory in the house Democratic caucus when they brought to their aid an unqualified endorsement of the measure from Secretary of State Bryan and defeated proposed "insurgent" amendments that would have prohibited interlocking directorates in national or state banks incorporated under the proposed law.

Secretary Bryan, in a letter addressed to Chairman Carter Glass of the currency committee, approved the bill as it stands, declaring President Wilson had recognized fundamental rights of popular control in its provisions. He asserted that the plank of the Democratic platform against interlocking directorates was aimed chiefly at trusts, and he urged Democrats to "stand by the president," and not to load down the currency bill with any amendments that might endanger its early passage.

Opposition Gives Way.

Fortified with the backing of one of the makers of the Baltimore platform, Representatives Glass and Underwood met the demand for an amendment to prohibit interlocking directorates with a counter proposal that the Democrats of the house take up general legislation against interlocking directorates at the next session. A resolution by Representative Underwood, adopted by a vote of 130 to 60, referred the entire subject to the Democratic members of the judiciary committee of the house, and directed them to bring in a bill at the next session of congress that would prevent interlocking directorates of all kinds.

Administration leaders said the large vote that supported the Underwood motion and the hearty approval that greeted Secretary Bryan's endorsement of the bill assured the approval of the complete Glass bill with but slight change. There remains several important amendments to be considered, but it was declared that the only modification of consequence would be a change to make it clear that agricultural paper will be given the same credit as commercial or industrial paper.

Untermeyer Offers Advice.

The amendment over which the fight waged throughout the day had been offered by Representative Neely of Kansas, one of the so-called "insurgent" members of the banking and currency committee. It was not until near the close of the session that Chairman Glass, after declaring that President Wilson did not want such an amendment incorporated in the bill, brought forth the Bryan letter. He also produced a letter addressed to him by Samuel Untermeyer, who was counsel for the Pujo money trust committee, saying he did not believe the interlocking directorate provision should be in the currency bill.

Objecting members who had questioned Mr. Glass' interpretation of the president's attitude gave way before the vigorous assertions of Secretary Bryan, and a vote quickly settled the question.

In his letter Secretary Bryan declared that for many years he had advocated a law preventing a duplicating of directorates.

Democratic members of the senate currency committee discussed the advisability of holding a brief series of hearings after the bill reaches the senate. If such hearings are given they will be restricted to the testimony of men invited to appear by the committee.

BELGIUM PRINCESS ACCUSED

Slayer Says Late King's Daughter Got Large Sum.

Berlin, Aug. 23.—Word has reached here that Dr. Walter Hoffmann, a lawyer of this city, has demanded the arrest of Princess Louise of Coburg, daughter of the late King Leopold of Belgium, on the charge of having obtained nearly $250,000 from him through fraud. It is recalled here that the lawyer mortgaged his share in a tea business for $34,250 to provide money for the princess. These events occurred in 1909, when the princess was here with Count Geza Matassich, ex-officer of the Austrian army and favorite of the princess. This man, with whom the princess is now declared to be living, served four years of a six-year term for forgery.
